Bill Botshka

LMI Canada | Botshka & Associates

Last week I attended Bill Botshka's MyTyme Success Workshop and it turned out to be exactly what I needed to move forward with my goals.

We had recently established our quarterly business goals. The problem was translating those goals into consistent daily activities, given all the competing demands on our time. Bill's workshop showed me a way to organize my time around the goals that matter most and how to use a better central planning system than the multiple apps, notebooks and thousand post-it-notes scattered around my desk.

The MyTyme Success Planner is a simple but powerful system, and Bill's information was targeted, thorough, and immediately implementable. He delivered the workshop with a mix of insight, experience, and humour that kept us all engaged.

I put my MyTyme planner into use right away, and it's already helping me get on top of my workplan. Now it's much easier for me to view my workday through a strategic planning lens. I have no doubt it will have a substantial impact on the success and speed of our Q4 goals this year. Thank you, Bill!
